Reviews

It is one of the most popular books. I am quite late in starting to read this one, but better than never. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.

They do not know whether to these details any statement as to the intervals which necessarily or usually elapse between successive promotions could be added. The Commissioners make this request under the impression that the public and even the educated classes from which candidates are to be expected possess no accurate information on the subject, and that the dissemination of such information would in all probability increase very considerably the number of eligible competitors. The Commissioners hope very shortly to lay before Her Majesty their annual report, and should Lord Stanley be pleased to accede to their request, they will be glad to insert any information with which they may be favoured. Altered to twenty-five for candidates selected in 1859. See next letter. In the copies of these Regulations printed for circulation, the following note was added: --The Secretary of State for India in Council hat authorized the Civil Service Commissioners to state that, with the view of meeting the expenses to be incurred by selected candidates during the intervals which must elapse before they can proceed to India, it is his Lordship s intention to allow the sum of 1Wl. to each selected candidate who shall hare passed the further Examination in July 1860 to the satisfaction of the Commissioners, and shall have complied with such rules as may be laid down for the guidance of selected candidates. I have, e. Mr. Melvill to Mr. Maitland. Sir, India Office, 7th April 1859. I...
