Gay, Black, African, Genderqueer and Proud: Story Behind the Masked Smile (Paperback)

By Daniel I G Ekine

Createspace, United States, 2012. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 198 x 129 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Ekine s debut, a memoir of his brutal upbringing, displays a steely self-acceptance forged as a shield against cultural and religious discrimination. Ibifubara Daniel George Ekine was born the oldest of four in Lagos, Nigeria. The only male child of the family, people considered him un-African, calling him names like Skeliwawa (effeminate) and attacking him on the street. The only familial bonding he shared was the rampant abuse and harsh discipline doled out by his father, an officer in the Nigerian navy. At first, his mother allowed him to behave as he did, thinking it was just a phase, but once he acted like a fashion model on a catwalk at a school performance, she and his aunts beat him in public. As Jehovah s Witnesses, Daniel s family believed he was a defect in Creation and, when he was 12, prepared him for baptism through more physical and mental abuse. Despite such horrific formative years, Daniel knew that God makes no mistakes. So, he buried himself in his studies, escaped to Malaysia to study engineering...
